- Good government league.

On Monday, the Express-News reported political contributions to San Antonio City Council members through the first six months of 1998. The third largest contributor ($3,500) was Bob Gregory, president of Texas Disposal Systems. Asked about his generosity, Gregory said: "I give to support the campaign process and the candidates and officeholders who I feel are doing a good job." His appreciation of the current crop of officeholders is understandable. In January, TDS signed a 28-year, $100 million-plus contract with City Hall.
